ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The ACSUS biennial conference, established in 1971, is the major academic forum in North America for scholars teaching and researching Canada. Our goal is to guarantee the highest quality academic experience in addition to valuable professional and social networking opportunities for all delegates. San Diego is a strategically important location for a number of reasons. It underscores our commitment to fostering relationships between North American neighbors while profiling important economic, political and cultural ties between California and Canada. San Diego’s academic profile is supported by a vibrant research community and an impressive concentration of universities.

The theme for the 2009 conference is North by Northwest, South by Southwest Canada, and the United States: Past, Present, and Future. Both the United States and Canada have looked to their respective western regions as a source of their current identities and inspiration for their unfolding futures. Today compelling issues of trade, migration, culture and the environment direct each society to consider how these western communities will address the challenges of the 21st century and how they may learn from the experiences of one another and from their other regional neighbors—north and south.

The program includes over one hundred panels and roundtables across more than a dozen disciplines in addition to plenary addresses by Ambassadors, Ministers, legislators, award winning writers, journalists, policy makers, and leading figures from business, industry, and the technology sector.

REGISTRATION

All conference attendees are required to register at the ACSUS registration desk where name badges and conference materials will be distributed. Featuring:

Chris Brogan, President, New Marketing Labs, LLC; Julien Smith, University of Montreal; and Doug Farry, Managing Director with the Government Affairs practice of McKenna Long & Aldridge LLP.

This event is your guide to a new form of power broker-web natives who trade in trust, reputation, and relationships using tools you may never even have heard of. You will learn what you need to look for in such an agent for your business or how to become one yourself. You’ll also learn about citizen journalism, how the Canadian Government is using social media for electioneering, community engagement, and how technology is facilitating cross border communication and collaboration between Canada and the US.
Chris Brogan is President of New Marketing Labs, a new media marketing agency, and home of the Inbound Marketing Summit conferences and Inbound Marketing Bootcamp educational events. He works with large and mid-sized companies to improve online business communications like marketing and PR through the use of social software, community platforms, and other emerging web and mobile technologies. Find him at chrisbrogan.com and on Twitter at twitter.com/chrisbrogan.

Julien Smith is a veteran trend analyst who has run Web communities for over ten years. He helps companies prepare for and profit from disruptive changes in their industries, and has appeared on news programs to represent companies and nonprofits in Canada and the U.S. Find him at juliensmith.com and on Twitter at twitter.com/julien.

Moderated by Doug Farry, Managing Director with the Government Affairs practice and Chair of the Radio Frequency Identification (RFID) practice of McKenna Long & Aldridge LLP. In his role with the Government Affairs practice, Mr. Farry provides strategic and tactical support for clients before the US House of Representatives, Senate and White House primarily on technology and telecommunications policy.

AUTHOR’S CORNER
Saturday, November 21, 6:00pm—7:00pm (California Ballroom)

Featured book:

CANADA IN NORAD, 1957-2007: A History (2008), Queen’s University Press by Joseph Jockel, St. Lawrence University

At its creation in 1957, NORAD was given operational control over the vast U.S. and Canadian continental air defence forces. Canada in NORAD, 1957-2007 follows Canadian involvement in the binaional command as the threat shifted from Soviet bombers to ballistic missiles to terrorist-hijacked aircraft. It focuses particularly on what continental air defence has meant for the Canadian air force and for Canadian airspace and territory. It also looks at the differing Canadian and U.S. conceptions of NORAD’s role in warning of nuclear attack, and the implications of Ottawa’s decisions not to participate in missile defence. It examines the place of Canadians within NORAD as it exercised operational control over Canadian and U.S. forces, which were equipped for years with nuclear air defence weapons, as well as the command’s impact on Canadian sovereignty. Finally, it outlines what Ottawa sought to achieve in the NORAD agreements with Washington, from the first one in 1958 to the most recent.

Joseph T. Jockel is professor and director of Canadian studies at St Lawrence University, Canton, New York, and the author of several books, including No Boundaries Upstairs: Canada, the United States, and the Origins of North American Air Defense, 1945-1958.

COFFEE WITH NINO RICCI
Sunday, November 22, 8:00am—9:00am (Plaza)

Ricci’s newest novel is The Origin of Species. Set in Montreal in the 1980s, it tells the story of one man’s search for love, meaning, and guilt-free sex while trying to get over the scars of an ill-fated trip to the Galapagos. The Origin of Species is “Ricci’s masterstroke to date,” according to the Toronto Star. “An ambitious, thrilling novel that resists encapsulation and takes not a single misstep.” Nino Ricci is also the author Testament, winner of the Trillium Award, and of the trilogy of novels Lives of the Saints, In A Glass House, and Where She Has Gone. The trilogy was adapted into a miniseries directed by Jerry Ciccoritti and starring Sophia Loren, Nick Mancuso, Fab Fillipo, Jessica ParÈ, and Kris Kristofferson. Ricci was the inaugural winner in 2006 of the Alistair MacLeod Award for Literary Achievement. He won his first Governor General’s Award for the novel Lives of the Saints.

Avant de siéger comme député, Pierre Arcand a fait carrière dans le domaine des communications. Durant près de 30 ans, il a assumé plusieurs postes de haute direction dans le milieu de la radio, en plus d’être copropriétaire de chaînes de stations de radio. M. Arcand est diplômé de l’école des Hautes études commerciales.

Pierre Arcand has been Minister of International Relations and Minister responsible for La Francophonie since December 18, 2008. He was first elected to the National Assembly, as Member for Mont-Royal, in March 2007. He has served as Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister of Finance and Chair of the Conseil du trésor, and Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister of Economic Development, Innovation and Export Trade and Minister of Tourism. He has also sat on various parliamentary committees, including the committees on public finance and education.

Before being elected to the National Assembly, Pierre Arcand had a long career in communications. Over a period of close to 30 years, he held a number of senior management positions in the radio sector, in addition to co-owning radio networks. He is a graduate of the École des hautes études commerciales (HEC Montréal).

He also served as the Government Caucus Whip.

Born in Medicine Hat on October 6, 1954, he graduated from Medicine Hat high school in 1972 and attended Medicine Hat College and the University of Calgary, graduating with a bachelor of commerce in 1976.

Mr. Renner is an active member of his community. He was instrumental in advancing the historic downtown Medicine Hat streetscape improvements and is past president of the Downtown Business Association. He also is a past director of the Chamber of Commerce and has been a member of Medicine Hat's Rotary and Jaycee Clubs.
LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT OF ACSUS

I am proud and privileged to conclude my ACSUS Presidency in a city and state exemplifying the level of cooperation and amity between the US and Canada. California is home to more than one million Canadians, while over 800,000 jobs in California are supported by Canada-US trade. The number of Canadians living in San Diego alone is large enough to support two large networking groups, CanDiego and Canadians Abroad.

The academic community supported by ACSUS plays an important role in educating students, policy makers, and the public-private sectors about the economic, political, trade, security, defense, environmental, technological, scientific, and cultural dimensions of Canada-US relations. The ACSUS biennial is a microcosm of this activity. Established in 1971, the biennial conference has evolved into a leading forum for the exchange of ideas and opinions on Canada and bilateral relations across a wide range of issues.

Canadian studies is not limited to the US and Canada. The impressive international profile at this year’s 20th biennial conference demonstrates the global reach of Canadian studies. Colleagues joining us this year come from Mexico, South America, Europe, the Middle East, Asia, Australia and New Zealand.

I extend a warm welcome to you all, and look forward to meeting many of you over the next few days.

Sincerely,

Patrick James, President, ACSUS

LETTER FROM THE 2009 PROGRAM CHAIR

It is a great pleasure to welcome you to San Diego-my original hometown-for ACSUS's 20th Biennial Conference. The Program Committee has been working on this event for now close to two years and we believe that you will find it to be one of the most interesting and rewarding sessions in our organization's history. In addition to having the opportunity to hear a variety of thoughtful and innovative presentations in several academic disciplines, you will also have chance to listen to the ideas and viewpoints of some significant authors and public policy makers from both sides of the Canadian-American border. We think you will find this combination to be a most stimulating and exciting experience.

As always, the ACSUS conference provides a wonderful opportunity to renew old friendships within the Canadian studies community and to make new contacts with colleagues from across North America and around the world. Our conference theme-North by Northwest and South by Southwest-encourages us to think of our work in Canadian studies in a comparative context and one that embraces insights from a variety of perspectives and orientations.

I think will find that the city of San Diego provides a most welcoming and exciting setting for our efforts. Take the opportunity to experience some of its outstanding beauty and multicultural traditions over the next several days.

I look forward to greeting as many of you as possible over the duration of the conference and soliciting your ideas as to how we can further enhance the work of ACSUS.

Sincerely,

Douglas Nord
Program Chair ACSUS ’09 and
President-elect
Greetings from His Excellency Gary Doer
Ambassador of Canada to the United States of America

To all those who have travelled from across North America to attend the 20th biennial conference of the Association for Canadian Studies in the United States, I extend a warm welcome.

The Government of Canada appreciates your efforts to build interest and develop a solid base of knowledge and research in the United States about Canada and Canada–U.S. relations in the United States. Your outreach to students, colleagues, policy makers, and media are crucial to ensuring that people understand the strongest relationship in the world between two countries.

We are encouraged by the growing partnerships between Canadian and U.S. universities and colleges. Together we are conducting cutting edge research and educating a new generation of North Americans.

Best wishes for a successful conference.

Ambassador Gary Doer
On behalf of the Embassy of the United States of America in Canada, I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate all the participants of The Association for Canadian Studies in the United States as you embark on your 20th Biennial Conference. For 38 years, your organization has worked to raise awareness and understanding of Canada and the bilateral relationship between Canada and the United States. ACSUS’s academic activities such as this Conference in San Diego, California, as well as your publications and grant programs, have helped policymakers in all walks of life become more knowledgeable and better equipped to make decisions and take actions to forge an even stronger bond.

I want to commend you for your efforts as a multidisciplinary alliance of institutions, professionals and scholars to improve mutual understanding of Canada’s history, literature, arts, peoples, cultures, politics, economy, and role in the international world. This Conference will take you far in meeting your goals, and I wish you every success.

Sincerely,

David Jacobson
Favoriser les partenariats universitaires entre le Québec et les États-Unis

Le gouvernement du Québec est fier de s’associer au 20e Congrès de l’Association for Canadian Studies in the United States (ACSUS).

Depuis 1971, nous croyons fermement que l’ACSUS favorise une meilleure compréhension du Québec et du Canada aux États-Unis.

C’est dans cet esprit que le Québec soutient les professeurs, les chercheurs et les étudiants américains grâce à deux programmes de bourses, le Québec Studies Program et le Québec Research Initiative.

Ces programmes favorisent les études et la recherche sur le Québec et ses relations avec les États-Unis, tant sur les plans de l’économie, de l’énergie et de l’environnement, que de la société, de la politique et de la culture.

Je salue tous les participants à ce congrès et leur souhaite des échanges fructueux.

Fostering Academic Links between Québec and the United States

The Québec government is proud to be associated with the 20th Association for Canadian Studies in the United States Conference (ACSUS).

Since 1971, we firmly believe that the ACSUS has fostered a better understanding of Québec and Canada in the United States.

That is the reason Québec supports American professors, researchers and students with two grant programs, the Québec Studies Program and the Québec Research Initiative.

These programs encourage studies and research on Québec and its relations with the United States as concerns the economy, energy and environment, society, politics and culture.

I salute the participants and extend my best wishes for a successful conference.

Greetings from the Honourable Len Webber
Minister of International and Intergovernmental Relations

20th Biennial Conference of the Association for Canadian Studies in the United States

On behalf of the Government of Alberta, I would like to extend a warm welcome to the participants at the 20th Biennial Conference of the Association for Canadian Studies in the United States (ACSUS). We trust that through this conference, ACSUS will continue to contribute to the building of strong relations and understanding between Canada and the U.S.

ACSUS' commitment to the advancement of Canadian studies by bringing together academia, government and professional communities is integral to the continued strength of the bilateral relationship. Alberta has long appreciated the importance of ACSUS, as demonstrated by our continued support of this conference as well as specific ACSUS initiatives.

We wish your organization continued success in the future and trust that everyone's experience at this year's conference will be stimulating and productive.

Len Webber
Minister of International and Intergovernmental Relations
MLA Calgary-Foothills
20/20 Vision Awards

The Association for Canadian Studies in the United States is pleased to use the occasion of the 20th biennial conference to recognize twenty individuals who have made major contributions to the development of ACSUS and Canadian Studies in the United States over the last several decades. These individuals have given of their time, energies and ideas to make the organization and its various undertakings a success over the past several years. Oftentimes in the rush to accomplish immediate goals we sometimes forget to say thank you to those who have been stalwart supporters of our overall mission. The Organizing Committee wanted to make sure that at this important biennial meeting of the Association we take note of those who have contributed their talents and vision to the development of an enhanced understanding of Canada in the United States.

AWARDS

Rufus Z. Smith Award

The Award is presented to the individual (or individuals) who is deemed to have written the best article in ARCS during the two years prior to the biennial conference at which it is presented. The prize is named after Rufus Z. Smith, a long-time Secretary-Treasurer of the Association.

Distinguished Dissertation Award

Kate Dunsmore, Assistant Professor, Department of Communication Studies at Fairleigh Dickinson University, is the recipient of the 2009 ACSUS Distinguished Dissertation Award in Canadian Studies for "Mediating Alliance: The Role of the Press in Sustaining Reciprocity in the US-Canada Relationship."

In Dunsmore’s study of how major news organizations help sustain Canada-US relations and frame the bilateral ‘narrative’, she presents an insightful review of how central decision makers on both sides of the border come to share common expectations. One committee member stated that Dunsmore’s research “pushed me further along in thinking about some of the theoretical issues in discourse analysis and media.”

The Distinguished Dissertation Award recognizes outstanding doctoral research on Canada at American institutions and is granted in conjunction with ACSUS’ biennial conference. The dissertation represents original work and makes a significant contribution to the study of Canada.

Jeanne Kissner Undergraduate Essay Award

Gina Kim, a student at Western Washington University, is the recipient of the 2009 Jeanne Kissner Award for “Gender-Based Persecution Claims in Canada’s Refugee Process: Accomplishments and Future Actions.” The committee was impressed by the original analysis and excellent references which demonstrated the depth of Kim’s research.

The Jeanne Kissner Undergraduate Essay Award was created in honor of the late Jeanne Kissner, Co-Director of the Center for the Study of Canada at Plattsburgh State University. Professor Kissner was unflagging in her support of Canadian studies education at the undergraduate level and had always hoped that such an award would be established. The award will recognize an undergraduate essay that presents a scholarly exploration of any Canadian studies theme. Essays in all fields are welcome.

The Rufus Z. Smith Award, Distinguished Dissertation Award, and Jeanne Kissner award will be presented at the President’s Lecture / Awards Ceremony on Friday, November 20, 6:00pm—7:00pm (California Ballroom).

Pierre Arcand began his career as an announcer and journalist in Montreal. In 1978, he became news director of the Télémedia radio network flagship. In 1984, he was promoted to vice-president and general manager and in 1985 to senior vice-president. In 1988, he left that position to become co-owner of CFCF and CFQR. In 1992, his group acquired stations CKVL and CKOI. CIEL and CIME-FM were added in 1998. With more than 20 years of experience in radio, in 2002 Pierre Arcand was named president of Corus Québec Radio, owner of 14 stations across Quebec. In 1987, he was named Nouveau Performant by the Montreal Board of Trade. He was a member of the board of directors of Tel-Aide from 1983 to 1986 and the Foundation for Diabetic Children from 1997 to 2006. Pierre Arcand was elected Member of the National Assembly for Mont-Royal in 2007 and was parliamentary assistant to the minister of Economic Development, Innovation and Exports and minister of Tourism from April 2007 to April 2008. Since then he has been parliamentary assistant to the minister of Finance and president of the Treasury Board. He has also been vice-president of the education commission since April 2007.

Featuring: The Honourable Rob Renner, Environment Minister, Government of Alberta
Rob Renner was elected to his fifth term as Member of the Legislative Assembly for Medicine Hat on March 3, 2008. He was appointed to a second term as Minister of Environment on March 12, 2008. He currently serves as Deputy Government House Leader, vice-chair of the Cabinet Policy Committee on Resources and the Environment, and as a member of the Agenda and Priorities Committee. Renner previously served as Minister of Municipal Affairs from 2004 to 2006. Since being elected in 1993, his duties have included Treasury Board, president of the Pacific Northwest Economic Region, chair of the Health Professions Act Implementation Steering Committee, and co-chair of the Automobile Insurance Implementation Team. He also served as the Government Caucus Whip.

Featuring: Commissioner Lyall Knott
Lyall Knott is a senior partner at Clark Wilson LLP, a Vancouver-based law firm. His area of practice is corporate and commercial real estate law and public-private partnerships.

Mr. Knott is the Honorary Captain of the Canadian Fleet Pacific and is an honorary member of the Naval Officers Association of British Columbia. Among his many awards, he was the recipient in 2000 of the Blythe Eagles Volunteer Service Award; in 2002 of the Commonwealth Medal for the Queen’s Golden Jubilee; and in 2003 the Medal of Merit Award of the Lions International. Lyall Knott serves on the Boards of Directors of several charitable organizations. He is Chair of the Rick Hansen Foundation, Board Secretary to S.U.C.C.E.S.S., and Former Chair of the UBC Foundation. He is the Honorary Consul for The Republic of Tunisia and a member of the British Columbia Consular Corps. Mr. Knott was appointed to the Royal Roads University Fellows Council. He is an active member of the Vancouver Board of Trade and is a member of the Law Society of British Columbia. In addition to having a broad base of experience with both public and private corporations, Mr. Knott has an extensive background and understanding of the workings of government.

Gary Doer assumed his responsibilities as Ambassador in October 2009, becoming the 23rd representative Canada to the United States.

Prior to taking up his current position in Washington, Ambassador Doer served as Premier of Manitoba for ten years. During that time, he worked extensively with US counterparts on trade, agriculture, energy, and environmental issues.

Ambassador Doer was elected to the Legislative Assembly of Manitoba in 1986, becoming the Minister responsible for Urban Affairs. In subsequent years, he held positions as Minister responsible for the Manitoba Telephone System, Minister of Crown Investments, and Minister responsible for the Liquor Control Act.

Before entering politics, Mr. Doer served as leader of the Manitoba Government Employees Association and the Manitoba Federation of Labour. He would later become the first union leader to be elected premier of a province. In his early years, he served as a counsellor at a juvenile detention centre in Winnipeg as well as deputy superintendent of the Manitoba Youth Centre.

Ambassador Doer hails from Winnipeg, where he studied political science and sociology at the University of Manitoba. He is married with two children.

Nino Ricci’s newest novel is The Origin of Species. Set in Montreal in the 1980s, it tells the story of one “the Galapagos. The Origin of Species is "Ricci’s masterstroke to date," according to the Toronto Star. "An ambitious, thrilling novel that resists encapsulation and takes not a single misstep." Nino Ricci is also the author Testament, winner of the Trillium Award, and of the trilogy of novels Lives of the Saints, In A Glass House, and Where She Has Gone. The trilogy was adapted into a miniseries directed by Jerry Ciccoritti and starring Sophia Loren, Nick Mancuso, Fab Fillipo, Jessica Paré, and Kris Kristofferson. Ricci was the inaugural winner in 2006 of the Alistair MacLeod Award for Literary Achievement. He won his first Governor General’s Award for the novel Lives of the Saints.

Moderated by Robert Thacker, St. Lawrence University

The WCSA invites the participation of Canadianists in the Western U.S. states of Arizona, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, and Wyoming. We support scholarly interaction among graduate students, junior faculty, and established professors in regular symposia in which new research is presented in a collegial setting. These popular symposia, called “Canadian Studies: On the Edge” have so far been held in Denver at the Consulate of Canada, at UC Berkeley, at Arizona State University in Tempe, at UC Davis, and at USC. The WCSA also encourages and partially supports the presentation of scholarly research at WSSA and ACSUS meetings. For further information please contact Rita Ross, President, at rjross@berkeley.edu

The Canada Institute:
Bringing the brightest minds and the most focused analysts to investigate current and future issues facing Canada and Canada-U.S. relations

The Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars is the living memorial to the 28th president, devoted to the promotion of scholarship in public affairs. The Center’s Canada Institute brings together scholars and policymakers to examine the major questions facing Canada and Canada-U.S. relations.

The Wilson Center awards approximately 20–25 residential fellowships annually to individuals with outstanding project proposals in a broad range of the social sciences and humanities on national and/or international issues.

The Canada Institute hosts the Fulbright-Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars Chair in Canada-U.S. Relations for a period of 4½ to 5 months during the spring semester; the chair provides a stipend of up to $25,000. Please visit our website www.wilsoncenter.org/canada or call 202-691-4301.
Established in 1975, The Center for the Study of Canada, State University of New York College at Plattsburgh, is dedicated to promoting and providing comprehensive scholarly professional development programs on Canada to academic, government and business constituents in the United States.

Recognized as a Title VI National Resource Center on Canada by the U.S. Department of Education since 1983, the Center is at the forefront of innovative Canadian-focused curriculum, research and program initiatives. The Center proudly supports the most comprehensive undergraduate Canadian Studies program in the U.S.

Berkeley’s Canadian Studies Program was established in 1982, with the aim of institutionalizing the interdisciplinary study of Canada through instruction and research. We encourage and facilitate an awareness of Canadian issues on our own campus, in nearby institutions with no Canadian Studies programs of their own, and in the wider community as well. We host a regular colloquium series featuring an interdisciplinary program of talks on all matters concerning the study of Canada and Canada-U.S. relations. Faculty, students, and visitors are welcome to present their work in this event series. We also organize and host a number of conferences and symposia on a wide range of topics. Among recent conferences are Canada, Humanitarian Intervention, and “the Responsibility to Protect” (November 2009), Quebec and the 17th c. Atlantic World (November 2008), and The Ice Is Melting: Climate Change in the Canadian North (March 2008).

For further information about all our activities and to learn more about the Thomas Garden Barnes Chair in Canadian Studies, the John A. Sproul Research Fellowship in Canadian Studies, and the Edward Hildebrand Graduate Fellowship in Canadian Studies, we invite you to visit our website.
MANECCS IN PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND – FALL 2010

The Middle Atlantic and New England Council for Canadian Studies invites you to join us for our biennial scholarly conference on Canada, September 30-October 3, 2010, at the Hilton Providence in stately Providence, Rhode Island.

Proposals for presentations in any field of Canadian Studies are sought. Of special interest are papers and panels that examine Canadian connections to Providence, Rhode Island, or New England generally. Abstracts of 250 words should be submitted to electronically to both of the conference co-chairs: Marsha Tate, The Pennsylvania State University (mat1@psu.edu) AND Robert Timko, Mansfield University of Pennsylvania (rtimko@mansfield.edu). Students of Canada at all levels of scholarly endeavour are encouraged to participate. The deadline for abstracts is APRIL 2, 2010.

American Review of Canadian Studies

Editor: John Purdy, Western Washington University, USA

American Review of Canadian Studies (ARCS) is a refereed, multidisciplinary, quarterly journal. Published since 1971 by the Association for Canadian Studies in the United States (ACSUS), it examines Canada and the Canadian point of view from an American perspective. Its articles - both interdisciplinary and disciplinary - explore Canada’s arts, cultures, economics, politics, history, and society, recognizing Canada’s distinctive position in the world.

Climate change threatens to alter precipitation patterns and change life on Earth. What can be done? The answers may come from the most unlikely place: semi-arid Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada, where there are oceans of opportunities.

What will happen if our freshwater supply runs dry?

Through partnerships with industry and community organizations, as well as through the collaborative efforts of international organizations and award-winning scholars, the University of Lethbridge will continue to break ground in researching and protecting our most precious resource. The answers they discover will be crucial for the province – and the planet.

An Exciting New Title from AU Press

Bomb Canada
and Other Unkind Remarks in the American Media
by Chantal Allan

Canada and the United States. Two nations, one border, same continent. Anti-American sentiment in Canada is well documented, but what have Americans had to say about their northern neighbour? Allan examines how the American media has portrayed Canada from Confederation to Obama’s election. By examining major events that have tested bilateral relations, Bomb Canada tracks the history of anti-Canadianism in the U.S. Informative, thought provoking and at times hilarious, this book reveals another layer of the complex relationship between Canada and the United States.

Chantal Allan is an award-winning journalist who has reported for CBC Radio and NPR (National Public Radio). Her articles have appeared in the Toronto Star, Los Angeles Daily News, and other publications. She received her M.A. in journalism from the University of Southern California and now lives in Los Angeles.

The British Journal of Canadian Studies is published twice-yearly by Liverpool University Press on behalf of the British Association for Canadian Studies. Launched over thirty years ago, BJCS is broad-based, multidisciplinary, and international, welcoming contributions from all areas of the arts and humanities and the economic and social sciences.

BJCS is committed to publishing research and scholarship on the analysis of Canadian issues, spanning wide-ranging historical and contemporary concerns and interests, as well as varied aspects of domestic, provincial, national, international and global significance.

BJCS welcomes articles that deal directly or through a comparative frame with Canada’s experiences, place and role in the wider English or French speaking worlds. Its prime objective is to further knowledge, discussion and understanding of Canada’s diverse experiences, peoples, places, perspectives and priorities in past and contemporary contexts. Literature reviews and shorter articles on teaching and learning related topics are also welcome. There is normally one ‘general’ issue and one ‘themed’ issue each year although this may vary.

Call for Papers
Biennial Conference
October 22-24, 2010
University of Windsor
Windsor, Ontario

Conference theme – Building Bridges between Countries and Disciplines
Since the First Nations settlement and the first European exploration, the upper Midwest has been central to the emergence and development of Canada and the United States. The limitless border of the Midwestern frontier offered challenges and experiences that are uniquely Canadian and American. The biennial MWACS conference continues this tradition of exploration and discovery through presentation of contemporary research in North American history, anthropology, culture, art, communications, geography, politics, economy, and society.
Conference papers are welcome on all topics related to Canada and Canadian Studies across all fields and disciplines. Research papers pertaining to the conference theme are particularly encouraged. Participant contact information, paper title and abstract of no more than 200 words should be sent by May 15, 2010 by email (preferred), mail, or fax to:
